Dear Pastor & Friends:

March, 2026

A few weeks ago when I went in for my regular checkup with the nephrologist, he asked me if I would consent to an interview with one of the local newspapers that cover the entire province of Guadalajara. They wanted to talk with someone who had been through kidney failure, dialysis and a kidney transplant. I told him I would be glad to cooperate. Joy went with me to the interview and God opened the door for me to testify on various occasions, but of course they wouldn't put all I said (God was in charge of my life, the kidney donor was born the same year we arrived in Spain, his kidney was a perfect match, that my new kidney has lasted already 15 years rather than the normal 10 etc. and that it reminded me how my Saviour who died that I might live) at least in a public newspaper. However the line above the picture actually says "A transplant is like being born again", which I really did say. So hope that will encourage some of the dialysis patients here in Guadalajara to accept a transplant when it is offered to them. Some say it is too complicated. We thank God for this opportunity to speak for Him.

We asked you last month to pray about a larger building we are looking for to buy for the church in Guadalajara. The pastor, Angel, applied to the city government to see if we could actually open a church in that building. They denied our permission! The new law is now that no church, not even Catholic, can have a building larger than 200 square meters. The one we wanted has 380! Bro Angel made an appeal for a direct interview with the government-appointed architect. She was kind, but.... She admitted that they were working on changing the law but it would probably be 2 or 3 years before it passed. We really are disappointed. It was a great price (the owner had even knocked 20,000 euros off the original price). We could buy it, but not call it a church. And we are not in condition to buy land and erect a new building. So we "wait on the Lord". Bro. Angel remarked that no doubt God has something better in mind. Please continue to pray with us about this. HE IS ABLE!
